

Membership of International Conventions

Paris Convention

A corresponding patent, design or trade mark application can be filed in any country which is a member of the Paris Convention claiming the effective filing date of a British application. Members states

World Trade Organisation

A corresponding patent, design or trade mark application can be filed in any country which is a member of the World Trade Organisation claiming the effective filing date of a British application. Members states

Patent Cooperation Treaty

A patent application under the Patent Cooperation Treaty provisionally covers all of the member states in a single application. Members states

European Patent Convention

A patent application under the European Patent Convention provisionally covers all of the member states in a single application. Members states

European Union

A Community Trade Mark Registration or a Community Design Registration covers all of the countries of the European Union with a single application. Members states

Madrid System

Under the Madrid System, a single trade mark application can designate any number of the member countries. The United Kingdom is a party to the Madrid Protocol, but not the Madrid Agreement, so that a British applicant can only designate those countries that are also party to the Protocol. Members states

Contact Dehns

T: +44 (0)20 7632 7200

E: mail@dehns.com

W: www.dehns.com

Copyright 2018. The information in this document is necessarily of a general nature and is given by way of guidance only. Specific legal advice should be sought on any particular matter. Dehns accepts no responsibility whatsoever for any action taken or not taken on the basis of the information contained herein. Last updated March 2018.